

Fortify your immune system with...

ImmuSun®

The body is designed with various mechanisms for identifying and destroying foreign challenges. These mechanisms work around the clock to protect us from harmful invaders. But sometimes our defenses can't keep pace with the growing number of threats we're exposed to each day. Simplexity offers another way to fortify your immune system so it can better work to keep you healthy.

ImmuSun is an all-natural dietary supplement that fortifies the body's immune system.* WGP™ beta glucan, a patented form of the complex carbohydrate beta glucan found in the cell walls of baker's yeast, supports the production and activity of macrophages, a type of white blood cell that is the immune system's first line of defense. Macrophages help maintain overall health by circulating throughout the body to capture and digest invader cells, thereby triggering the mobilization of the body's defenses.

The result is a stronger immune system.

What is beta glucan?

Beta glucan is a complex carbohydrate of glucose, a simple sugar. It can be derived from several sources, including yeast, bacteria, fungi, and cereals such as oats, barley, and rye.

How does it work?

WGP (whole glucan particle) beta glucan, the active ingredient in ImmuSun, stimulates the immune system when it comes in contact with macrophages in specialized regions of the small intestine. The stimulated macrophages have an increased ability to identify and destroy foreign intruders. After devouring invaders, the macrophages then communicate the intruder's presence to the body's other defenders for concerted and effective elimination.

Scientific Support

Scientists discovered the immune-boosting properties of beta glucan in the 1960s. Since then, they've documented its potential as an immunity booster in numerous studies conducted at pre-eminent research institutions, including Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Harvard University, and Johns Hopkins University. These studies have proven WGP beta glucan's ability to activate macrophages that, in turn, serve to eradicate unwanted cells and thus contribute to the health of the immune system.
