

StemPlex®: What People Are Saying

Chiropractor says "WOW!"

"Call it good genes, regular Chiropractic care and meditation, copious amounts of our Simplicity Health products, or all of the above. The point is, I rarely get sick. I had the flu well over five years ago, and then nothing of any consequence until about six weeks ago when the flu visited me again and, in about a five-day period, morphed into a very sticky chest cough; highly productive, and I might add...yuck! My energy was low, and I was not happy about it one little bit! I took StemPlex for the very first time; and even though I still suffered with that gnarly cough, I was able to get out into our glorious Southern California sunshine and do my hike within a few hours of trying StemPlex. Before that, I hadn't felt that I could handle the hike! 'Wow!' quite accurately describes my intellectual and emotional state on that day. In fact, 'Wow' still does it weeks after my first StemPlex experience! Thank you, Simplicity!" – Stuart T. Martin, D.C., California

I feel MYSELF again...

"I had major neck surgery in June of '06. After the surgery, I had been unable to work and live as I wanted. I had a very limited ability to sit and work at my desk; I was not mentally sharp, and found myself without the energy to finish many tasks in my business. I was able to work for a total of only two hours a day. A month after starting StemPlex, I can now work at my desk for several hours—four to six—of the day. I am finishing tasks as they come up, instead of finding that I forget what I am doing and cannot concentrate. Most important to me, I feel MYSELF again, as far as alertness, mental clarity, and actual accomplishments go!" – Barbara Swanson, Oregon

StemPlex is amazing...

"Here's my experience of StemPlex. I had been having some left knee challenges for several months. I work with a lot of heavy lifting and am constantly going up and down stairs. That knee has been bearing the brunt of the work. In November of '06, I started StemPlex, thinking, 'Hey, I wonder what this will do for me?' The very next morning, I walked as easily as if I hadn't been dealing with anything! When I had to travel soon after starting StemPlex, the airport security machinery was down, so I had to walk the length of about 10 gates to enter a different area. I walked it and then walked back to get to my gate. I wasn't running, but I wasn't moaning either. It has been that way ever since. StemPlex is amazing!" – Kate Rander, Virginia

What Are Adult Stem Cells?

Adult stem cells are naturally occurring in the body; there is no controversy surrounding them, as there is with embryonic stem cells. According to the National Institutes of Health, stem cells have the remarkable potential to develop into many different cell types in the body, such as muscle cells, red blood cells, and even nerve cells. New stem cells migrate to the areas in the body where they are needed most, serving as a repair system for the body. Theoretically, stem cells can divide without limit for as long as we are alive!
